Answer the next five questions based on the following passage. Technology has become an inseparable part of modern human life. From communication to transportation, education to healthcare, technological advancements have transformed the way people live and work. The invention of smartphones, the internet, and artificial intelligence has made information easily accessible and communication almost instantaneous. In education, technology has opened new opportunities for students through online learning platforms, virtual classrooms, and digital libraries. These tools have made education more flexible and inclusive, especially for those living in remote areas. Similarly, in the workplace, automation and digital tools have increased productivity and efficiency. However, excessive dependence on technology has also created challenges. People often spend too much time on social media, which can reduce face-to-face interaction and affect mental health. Moreover, issues such as data privacy, cybercrime, and unemployment due to automation have become serious concerns. Despite these drawbacks, technology continues to play a vital role in development. The key lies in using technology wisely and ethically so that it benefits individuals and society as a whole.
